

#ReimaginePhysicalSpaces

Enable fluid meeting experiences with Microsoft Teams Room and Magenium

63% of workers would use video conferencing more if their huddle rooms were better equipped. End the frustration and allow people to easily schedule, join and participate in meetings, and as per your return-to-work policies.

Stay in the flow across spaces and devices

Predictable and familiar experience across Teams Rooms devices, no matter the device, room size or room type

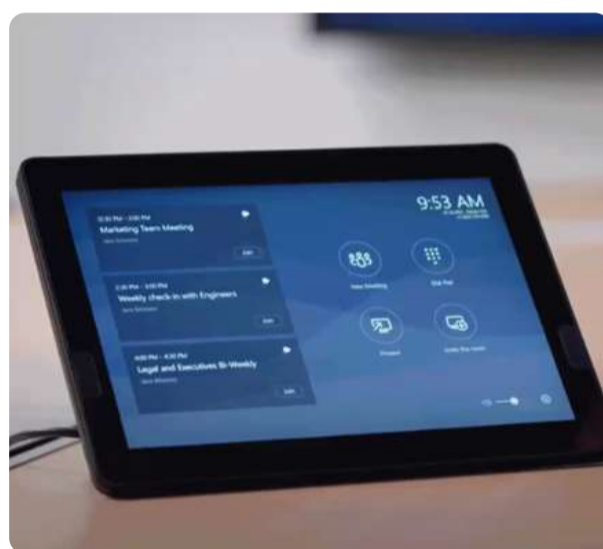

Eliminate the scheduling hassle

Automatically reserve a Teams Room directly from Outlook or Teams or from a Teams panel

Join a meeting without wasting a moment

Instantly join the meeting with just one-touch on the panel and save the time lost in fumbling with the equipment

Support clean workspaces and social distancing

Get a touchless experience by using your personal device or only your voice to join and participate in the meeting

“In the past, meetings could get off to a bad start, with connectivity issues or individuals struggling to join via their phones. But with Teams Rooms systems and one-touch join capabilities, meetings at Cerner are easier than ever to attend. Colleagues can hit the ground running, sharing insights and resolving issues with fewer obstacles.”
